Rights Measure Skirmish Opens

Senate Parliamentary Action Shows Strategy Of Opponents

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—The Senate today began unusual parliamentary maneuvering which may determine whether it acts this year on civil rights legislation, described by President Eisenhower as the "moderate, decent thing to do."

Israel Warns Against Use Of Submarines

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector, June 19 (AP)—Israel tonight warned Egypt against using submarines to blockade the Gulf of Aqaba. Egypt's Middle East News Agency announced yesterday three submarines have been bought from Russia and have joined the Egyptian Navy.

Israel, the British Admiralty in London, the French and the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean all have shown concern.

An Israeli government broadcast said a submarine blockade would be "lighting the fires" that would mean suicide.

It said the submarines would meet the same fate as the Egyptian destroyer Ibrahim El Awal. The destroyer was captured by Israeli forces off Haifa at the time of the Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall and now is part of the Israeli navy.

Ship movements from the Israeli port of Eilat in the Gulf of Aqaba are normal, the broadcast said, and added that from Israel's point of view "this peaceful navigation will continue."

Britain and France also expressed concern over the delivery of three long-range submarines to the Egyptian naval base at Alexandria.

In Washington, the State Department declined to discuss the U.S. attitude on the grounds that it had no official word that the submarines have been turned over to the Egyptian navy.

The British Admiralty noted the passage of the three submarines through the Baltic, the North Sea, English Channel and onward and British and American Navy units observed their progress through the Mediterranean to Egypt.

Family Sees Pilot Crash

DAYTON, Ohio, June 19 (AP)—An Air Force jet pilot was injured seriously today in a crash witnessed by his wife and three children.

And the quick work of two Wright-Patterson Air Force Base electricians may have saved his life, flight surgeons said.

Capt. William S. Reed, 32, of Dayton, son of Mrs. Myrna Reed of Lakewood, Ohio, was taking part in an air show for visiting cadets from the Air Force Academy. His family was in the grandstand when his F4F jet crashed near the field.

The air base electricians, Harold Lambert, 29, of Springfield, and John Oakley, 28, of Dayton, on a pole near the crash scene, hurriedly removed Capt. Reed from the wreckage area and from the fire which followed.

The airman's wife, Rachael, and his three children, David, 7; Shelley, 6, and Susan, 4, saw the crash.

Further Rise In Spending Seen Serious

Humphrey Agrees That Present Federal Outlays Inflationary

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey agreed today with a Senate inquisitor's statement that a prolonged further rise in federal spending could send the country "over the precipice of financial disaster."

The warning was sounded by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who as chairman of the Senate Finance Committee grilled Humphrey for two hours on government costs and dollar depreciation. Their sparring, on the second day of the Senate probe into the Eisenhower administration's monetary policies, was sharp but good-humored.

Humphrey agreed that a prolonged climb in government outlays is one of the inflationary forces which, if not controlled, could bring "extremely serious" consequences.

Similar hazards would result, he testified, if inflation continued to nibble away the buying power of the dollar at the rate of two cents a year. At some point impossible to forecast, he said, a sudden loss of confidence can spread over the country "like a blanket."

But the secretary disputed Byrd's assertion that this year's congressional economy drive has been waged "in the face of strongest opposition from the President of the United States."

"I have never seen anybody more dedicated to finding an answer to these problems—nor anybody who worked harder at it—than the President," Humphrey protested.

The secretary backed down a notch, under Byrd's challenging questions, from the claim he made in his prepared testimony yesterday that "We have reduced the government debt." He stood by his claim that, "We have reduced government expenditures."

The facts are, Byrd declared, that the debt is about nine billion dollars higher than when President Eisenhower took office and that spending has risen by nine billion dollars a year from the low point—$64,600,000,000—achieved by the Republican administration in 1955.

Explaining his debt-reduction claim, Humphrey said he had eliminated from his figures about nine billion dollars of bills "inherited" from the Truman administration. Byrd accused him of using a "misleading" device, inasmuch as the government's bookkeeping shows the debt was $226,700,000,000 when the administration came in and now stands above 274 billion dollars.

"I would like the record clearly to show that the debt has not been reduced in the period of this administration," the economy-minded Virginian stated.

"That is correct," Humphrey agreed. "The only reduction has been $1,600,000,000 last year, (compared to the previous year.) Byrd contended that Humphrey's claims of government savings also were misleading because they compared 1953, the peak year of Korean War spending, with today's peacetime conditions.

"You are comparing a peacetime budget with a wartime budget," he told the secretary.

The Truman-prepared budget of fiscal 1953 was close to $74,300,000,000. Byrd said, and the pending 1958 requests add up to more than $73,600,000,000 when highway construction costs, not now treated as a budget item, are added to the spending total.

Kishi teamed up today with Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), a crack golfer frequently in the 70s, against Eisenhower and Takizo Matsumoto, a member of the Japanese Diet—Parliament.

The president was protected from the sun by a tan straw hat with the brim turned down. He wore a white, short-sleeved sport shirt, tan slacks and tan shoes.

Join In Laugh

President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi of Japan share a laugh during a session at the first of their three days of talks. Standing are Koichiro Asakai, Japanese ambassador to the United States, and Douglas MacArthur II, U.S. ambassador to Japan. Kishi said the talks may open a "new era of Japanese-American relations."

11 Believed Dead As Tankers Collide

BREST, France, June 19 (AP)—Two oil tankers groping through fog suddenly collided in a flaming crash off the Brittany coast early today. Eleven men were believed killed.

The ships were the American-owned Stony Point, registered in Liberia, and the Greek tanker Ioannis.

More than 50 men in the crews were reported rescued and 27 survivors of the Stony Point Italian crew were brought here tonight. Twenty were hospitalized, 10 of them in serious condition.

Survivors said the Ioannis crashed into their vessel amidships and flames roared through the tanker. Flaming oil spread over the sea.

The two ships rammed together in the blinding predawn fog near the Isle of Ushant. Fog hampered rescue efforts. It kept away from helicopters trying to reach the scene.

The still-blazing Stony Point was taken in tow finally by a Dutch tug. The Ioannis crew stayed aboard its partly foundered vessel and managed to navigate the ship to an anchorage seven miles off Brest. The bow was still smoldering.

The 15,000-ton Stony Point, loaded with oil, was en route from Sidon, Lebanon, to Antwerp, Belgium. Its New York operating agents, Victory Carriers, Inc., said it carried a crew of 40.

Girard Legal Step Delayed

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—A final decision on the next legal step the government will take in the William S. Girard case has been put off until tomorrow.

This word was given out by officials late today after a long meeting in the office of Atty. Gen. Brownell. The Justice Department made no formal statement on the situation.

U.S. Atty. Oliver Gasch yesterday filed formal notice the government will appeal a ruling by Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy that Girard cannot be tried by Japan for manslaughter in the death of a Japanese woman.

Judge McGarraghy ruled that Girard, a 21-year-old Army specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., was on official duty when the Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, was killed on a military firing range.

He said Girard could be tried by a U.S. Army court-martial in Japan but that a Japanese trial would violate Girard's constitutional rights.

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—The French Cabinet today ordered gasoline rationing ended July 1. It was imposed during the Suez Canal crisis.

Cross Hired Prostitute As Organizer

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—James G. Cross, Bakers Union president, said today he hired a woman as a "secret" union organizer without knowing she was a convicted prostitute.

Cross, plump and ruddy-faced, told the Senate Rackets Committee his relationship with the woman, Mrs. Kay Lower of Los Angeles, was that of a boss and an employee. Mrs. Lower was fired as soon as he heard of her police record, he said.

The committee is looking into allegations by a suspended union official that Cross used union funds to finance an affair with Mrs. Lower, that he "misused" union money in other ways, and that he approved substandard wage agreements with bakers' interests that loaned him $100,000.

Before taking the stand, Cross told newsmen he expects to be vindicated and plans to serve out the remaining four years and four months of his presidential term, "unless the good Lord disposes of me."

Cross told the Rackets Committee Mrs. Lower was hired in 1954 in connection with efforts to organize two Los Angeles bakeries—and that her work was so secret union members weren't told she was on the payroll.

In response to repeated questions Cross said he and Mrs. Lower once were in Portland, Or., at the same time. He explained his hesitancy about answering by saying, "My memory is poor as to people."

"I thought this might be a little different," Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) suggested.

"I know what you thought," Cross shot back.

Thunderstorms Conclude Record Heat Wave In East

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms lashed parts of New England and the lower Hudson Valley Wednesday, knocking away at last traces of a record-breaking heat wave that claimed more than 200 lives in the Eastern half of the nation.

High winds knocked down trees and torrential rains caused some washouts in the Templeton, Mass., area. Heavy thunderstorms also were reported in the Worcester, Mass., area and hail fell at Hubbardston, Mass.

Before the cold front arrived, the mercury soared into the 90s along the East Coast as far north as Boston. Philadelphia had a 90-plus reading for the eighth day running, a new June record. Newark, N.J., reported a 95 and Norfolk, Va., 96.

The heat wave and flooding caused by torrential rains took at least 235 lives the last five days.

Girard Expects To Wed Fiancee In Few Days

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Army Pvt. William S. Girard expects to marry his Japanese fiancée within a few days, it was learned here today.

A spokesman for Girard's attorney, Earl J. Carroll, said that necessary papers were expected to reach Japan today to enable marriage of the soldier who is accused of staying a Japanese woman on a U.S. military installation.

Girard last weekend asked his mother at Ottawa, Ill., to forward a copy of his birth certificate and an affidavit of financial responsibility. The lawyer's aide said Girard plans to wed Haru (Candy) Sueyama as soon as required documents can be processed.

Guardsmen Say Congress Backs Down On Deal

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—National Guardsmen testified today that Congress in effect will be wincing on a deal to maintain the National Guard strength at 400,000 unless it boosts the defense budget by $9 million dollars for training expenses.

On the other hand, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States supported not only by a 2½ billion dollar cut the House made in defense appropriations but also urged an additional slash of 744 millions.

These contrasting stands were taken before the Senate's Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

Subcommittee members gave a sympathetic ear to the plea from the National Guard. It got the support, too, of Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton.

Milton said the Army has put in a bid for the extra funds for Army National Guard training but approval hasn't come through from the Defense Department or Budget Bureau.

Maj. Gen. Charles G. Sage, the adjutant general of New Mexico, spoke for the National Guard Assn. and the Adjutants General Assn. Sage said the defense appropriation passed by the House provides enough money to support an average strength of 400,000 in the Army National Guard, but not enough to give them required training. Without more training funds, he said, the strength will drop to around 360,000.

All National Guard recruits without prior service are required to take six months active duty training. But the requirement wasn't put into effect until after the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 was sent to Congress. Hence the bid for the extra $9 millions.

A radio message said immediate air and surface help was needed.

The Grain Shipper left Seattle June 4 for East Coast ports. She is owned by Grain Fleet, Inc., and is under charter to States Marine Co.

Would Back Atom Tests Suspension

Cautious Approval Only On Condition Of Mutual Trust

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower issued a cautious welcome to Russia's new disarmament proposals today.

Eisenhower told a sweltering, semi-shirt-sleeve news conference he would be "perfectly delighted" to try a suspension of atomic weapons tests while efforts to achieve a permanent ban continued.

But he added quickly that he'd accept such a short-term agreement with the Russians only on condition that each country knew exactly what the other was doing.

The President's comments indicated a possible major change in U.S. policy.

State Department officials have said privately this country would agree to suspend A-weapon testing only as part of a "first step" disarmament agreement which also would halt manufacture of weapons under a cheatproof mutual inspection system.

Opposes Halt
Eisenhower himself said recently he would oppose a halt in testing of nuclear weapons until there was a firm agreement they would never be used in war. Asked if this applied to the new Soviet proposal for a two-or-three-year suspension of testing, he replied quickly:

"Oh, no. No, no. I would be perfectly delighted to make some satisfactory arrangement for temporary suspension of tests while we could determine whether we couldn't make some agreements that would allow it to be a permanent arrangement."

Denies Reprimand
His answers to questions included:

1. A flat denial of widespread reports that aide Harold E. Stassen was "reprimanded" by Secretary of State Dulles last weekend. Eisenhower acknowledged there was some feeling that maybe Stassen was "rushing too fast" in London disarmament talks. And he said such matters are so delicate that U.S. delegates can't be allowed to "stray off the path one single iota." The British and French have been complaining about Stassen's private talks with the Russians.

2. A declaration that his civil rights bill, just passed by the House, is intended as "a very moderate, decent" measure. He said he was badly disappointed that some people—i.e., some Southerners—see in it an "unjust and improper" intrusion on their social order. The President wouldn't say whether he'd like to see Republicans stick it out all summer to fight an expected filibuster in the Senate.

3. A statement that the Justice Department will decide whether any further legal action is required in the wake of recent "individual rights" decisions by the Supreme Court. Asked if he thought the court had gone too far at the expense of law enforcement and congressional investigation rights, Eisenhower said he has some pretty strong "fixed conviction" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Melchior Tried To Fool Bandits

HOLLYWOOD, June 19 (AP)—Opera star Lauritz Melchior said today he gave the dramatic performance of his life but failed to thwart three gunmen who invaded his home late last night and robbed him of more than $100,000 in jewels and furs.

The rotund, 67-year-old Danish-born Wagnerian tenor feigned a heart attack as the silk-stocking-masked robbers tied him up.

"I'm something of an actor, you know," Melchior told police. "So I pretended I was having a heart attack and keeled over and retched."

The smoothly operating holdups were momentarily taken aback, got Melchior a drink of water, loosened his bonds and then ran out of the mansion.

Melchior, clad only in shorts, freed himself, grabbed a rifle and ran to the street but was too late to fire a shot at the getaway car.

Police at first estimated the value of the loot at around $250,000. Later, while they still had no exact figure, their rough estimate was $139,000. Melchior said he had $100,000 insurance.

Kishi, President Confer For Hour

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Japanese Prime Minister Kishi arrived for an official visit today. President Eisenhower welcomed him at a White House policy talk and later played golf with him. Both expressed confidence the visit would improve U.S.-Japanese relations.

The 60-year-old Premier arrived on Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III, from San Francisco. A 19-gun salute boomed out and a delegation headed by Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles greeted Kishi.

Dressed in a black summer-weight suit, the Japanese leader flashed a broad smile and said he expected his "frank and friendly discussions" with U.S. officials would "help to prepare the way for a new era of Japanese-American relations."

Eisenhower, at almost the same moment, was telling a news conference he and Dulles had long looked forward to Kishi's visit.

"We believe," the President said, "that great opportunities are opening up for a great increase in understanding with our friends the Japanese, to bring out interests into closer coordination as we pursue policies of the world."

Eisenhower and Kishi held an hour-long meeting at the White House only 90 minutes after the Japanese leader's arrival. Then they had lunch and drove to suburban Burning Tree golf course for 18 holes of recreation.

Newsman permitted to watch the first shots saw Eisenhower outdrive his guest by more than 50 yards on the first hole.

On a match play basis, the contestants finished "all even" in 18 holes.

No announcement was made of the political topics up for discussion between the Japanese and American leaders. However, nuclear tests, trade with Red China and the future of such territories as Okinawa and the Bonin Islands presumably were prominent among them.

No public mention was made of an issue currently dividing this country and Japan—the question of which country will try U. S. Army Specialist 3 C. William S. Girard, accused of manslaughter in the shooting of a Japanese woman.

Power Co. Plans New Generator

FAIRMONT, W. Va., June 19 (AP)—Monongahela Power Co. announced today that it plans to spend 22 million dollars on a new generating unit to keep production of electricity ahead of the growing demand in the industrial Ohio Valley.

President Don B. Potter said ground will be broken next spring for the new unit, to be built as an addition to Monongahela's present Willow Island station along the Ohio below St. Marys. The company expects to have the unit in full operation by the fall of 1960. The new unit's generating capacity of 180,000 kilowatts will make it the largest ever installed by Monongahela.

Refuses To Comment

4. A refusal to comment on the case of William S. Girard, the soldier accused of manslaughter in Japan. Some congressmen have said the public would change its mind and agree Girard should be tried by a Japanese court if all the facts were known. Eisenhower said that to publish official reports could damage Girard's case whether he is tried by the Japanese or, as a U.S. federal judge has ordered, by a U.S. Army court-martial.

5. A disclaimer of any knowledge that documents bearing on the Idaho power tax write-off controversy have been—as some Senate investigators have suggested—withdrawn from government files. This would be against the law, Eisenhower said. But he repeated past assertions that communications between government officials must remain confidential.

Actor Given 10 Days In Jail

LOS ANGELES, June 19 (AP)—Anthony Franciosa, wave-haired actor husband of movie star Shelley Winters, today was given a 10-day jail term and two years probation for kicking a newspaper photographer in the chest last April 19.

Municipal Judge Mark Brandler imposed the sentence after turning down the 29-year-old actor's request for permission to vacate his guilty plea and plead innocent.

Franciosa's attorney, William Rosenthal, filed notice of appeal and the judge ordered Franciosa released on $250 bail.

The judge said there was "no doubt whatsoever in this court's mind of the defendant's guilt," despite Franciosa's insistence that he was kicking only at the camera and did not inflict any physical punishment on the photographer himself.

The photographer was William Walker of the Los Angeles Evening Herald and Express. The incident occurred after Franciosa and Miss Winters, who was then his fiancée, emerged from a courtroom after making an unsuccessful bid on a house that had been placed on auction.

Dorothy Smith Freed By High Court Ruling

ALDERSON, W. Va., June 19 (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Krueger Smith, a general's daughter who killed her colonel husband, was freed today from a federal prison.

Nine days ago, the Supreme Court ruled that Mrs. Smith was tried illegally by an Army court-martial in Japan.

The 44-year-old Army wife was convicted by a nine-member Army court-martial in Tokyo, Jan. 10, 1953, of stabbing Col. Aubrey Smith to death with a foot-long hunting knife as he slept. She was sentenced to life at hard labor.

Mrs. Smith, mother of two, was wearing a prison-made green cotton print dress and prison-issue shoes when she left the Federal Reformatory for Women at mid-morning. She was accompanied by Gen. Adam Richmond (Ret.) of Bethesda, Md., one of her attorneys, and Mrs. Richmond.

She plans to accompany Gen. Richmond to Washington and then fly to San Antonio, Tex., to join her father, retired Gen. Walter Krueger, who won fame in the Pacific theater during World War II.

The Supreme Court, reversing itself, ruled June 10 that civilians who accompany the armed forces overseas are not subject to military trial for crimes committed abroad.

The ruling meant freedom for Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Clarice B. Covert, who was convicted in England for the ax murder of her husband, Sgt. Edward E. Covert. Mrs. Covert also was sentenced to life, but was free on bail when the ruling came.

Rex Harrison, Actress Get Marriage License

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Stage-screen star Rex Harrison and actress Kay Kendall obtained a marriage license today.

The English-born couple said they would marry later this month but gave no other information about their plans.

Miss Kendall, who has appeared in a number of British films and has recently been in Hollywood, obtained the license under her full name, Kay Justine Kendall McCarthy. She is 31, and has not been married before.

Harrison, 49, is currently starring in the Broadway hit "My Fair Lady." He has been married twice previously. He was divorced from Lilli Palmer in Mexico last February on grounds of incompatibility. His first marriage, to Collette Thomas, ended in a London divorce in January 1943.

Labor Leader Is Convicted

PITTSBURGH, June 19 (AP)—One of western Pennsylvania's most powerful labor leaders was convicted today in U.S. District Court on charges of violating the Hobbs Antiracketeering Act.

Nicholas Stirone, president of Common Laborers Local 1058 and president of the Western Pennsylvania Laborers Council was found guilty by a jury which deliberated nearly five hours.

He faces a maximum sentence of $10,000 and 20 years imprisonment.

The federal government charged Stirone extorted $31,274 from a concrete contractor, William G. Rider. It charged he demanded and got the money as the price for labor peace while a building project was under construction.

Woman, 73, Falls 250 Feet

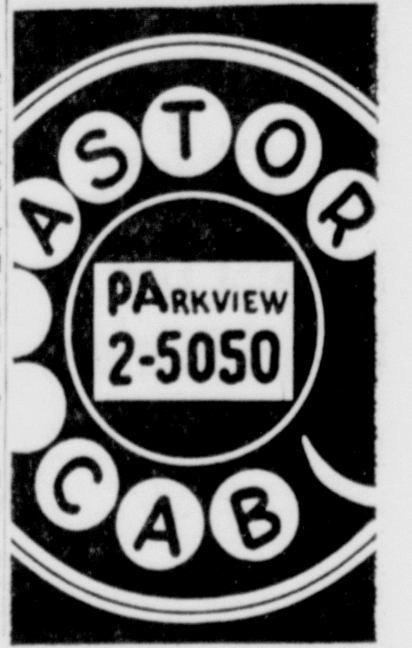

BROOKINGS, Ore., June 19 (AP)—A 73-year-old woman, prowling the oceanside looking for gold, fell off a 250-foot cliff yesterday and survived.

The woman, Mrs. Winnie Hapenstall, was unconscious when searchers spotted her at the base of a cove cliff. Rescuers were unable to reach her from the beach and summoned boats and a Coast Guard helicopter.

The helicopter was unable to come immediately and the boat was unable to enter the cove because of waves. So Dr. David Brown and six other men went over the side of the cliff by ropes to reach her.

They administered blood plasma and oxygen. When low tide came they waded through waist-deep water, around one point of the cove carrying the unconscious woman to safety.

She was taken to a Crescent City, Calif., hospital.

London Talks Veer To Field Of Atom

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The London conference has now moved away from a direct approach to disarmament into the field of atomic tests.

Russia has made a switch which, if sincere, is important.

She has proposed, in connection with a "trial period" ban on the tests, to admit international inspection teams from the United Nations to see that she keeps her word.

That is something she has always opposed, on any subject and in any form.

For one thing, the Russians keep insisting that their word is good. They feel that inspection is degrading, in addition to its practical import.

It would also mean reversal of an ingrained attitude against giving anyone a look at their business.

For these reasons, the Allies are giving the horse a good look in the mouth before mounting it. They recognize, however, that the Russians have cast an important gambit into the discussions, one that cannot be put aside without grave political consequences. For once, the Russians are very likely to have world public opinion at least tentatively on their side.

The offer falls far short of meeting the requirements set forth by the United States for a testing ban.

The Russians merely propose that the tests be stopped for two or three years, as a first step toward disarmament agreements.

The United States has taken the position—it was reiterated just the other day by President Eisenhower—that she will not discontinue tests until there is a complete, enforceable ban on atomic war itself.

The President did say, however, that he didn't think there will be any need for further tests of the big H-bombs. That could mean the country already has enough knowledge about them, or that they go beyond practical size and strength.

Harold Stassen indicated yesterday that the United States might consider a shift in policy if Russia really intends to go through with an inspection arrangement. This attracted much favorable attention in the other Allied countries.

The people of the United States, however, no longer consider Stassen as a top policy maker on the subject, and will wait for word from Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles.

State Requires More Space For College Classes

HILLSBORO, Md., June 19 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said here that Maryland must provide "vastly more space ... for college education at the lowest possible cost to the greatest number of students."

"With the counties and City of Baltimore exercising their proper responsibilities in the advancement of primary and secondary education," he said, "the State can move more deliberately into one of the most challenging problems of our times—the expansion of our facilities for education beyond the high schools."

The governor made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery before the Queen Anne's County Lions Club.

"In recent months," McKeldin said, "the governments in many of our counties have shown the true sense of the responsibility that is theirs by increasing the salaries of public school teachers at the local level."

Since McKeldin vetoed a $400 across-the-board pay hike proposed for teachers by the 1957 General Assembly, 14 counties have granted their teachers salary increases.

McKeldin cited specific examples of State action to aid higher education in Maryland.

"But today we know it is not enough," he said, "Today we know that vastly more space must be provided ..."

"The public junior colleges seem to be the answer to this," the governor said, but he added that "this program, generally speaking, is in its infancy."

Such junior colleges are in operation in Baltimore, Silver Spring, Rockville and Hagerstown. Two more are to be established in the coming fiscal year in Baltimore County and one in Harford County.

He said the State's contribution to the cost of these colleges will rise in the coming fiscal year to $150 per student from the $125 of the current year.

India Seeks Stability In The Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

India has an important interest in seeking that some sort of stability settles over the Middle East. But if pacification was the goal behind Prime Minister Nehru's stopoff in Syria, it is unlikely he accomplished much. In fact, his sortie into new fields of peace-making was likely to complicate an already highly confused situation.

Nehru can hardly be a convincing peacemaker. As an anti-colonialist, too, he must occupy a curious position in the eyes of the Islamic world. He has failed to make peace with Pakistan over the Kashmir issue. The province has a predominantly Moslem population, and from a Moslem point of view, at any rate, Nehru's claim to the rich area might easily be related to colonialism.

Explosions in the Middle East have hurt the Indian economy through their whiplash action on Indian trade, and can hurt it in the future, particularly if the Suez Canal should be closed off again.

Nehru stopped in Syria on his way to a Commonwealth conference in London. Possibly he hoped that his neutralist reputation would carry considerable weight in Syria and Egypt and help avert the danger of a new eruption.

Possibly, also, Nehru's intention might be to smooth over the Arab grudge against Britain. But Nehru's sorties into peacemaking have a way of reacting against the West and playing into Soviet hands.

Only a couple of weeks before Egypt's President Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal Co. and touched off a violent chain reaction in the Middle East, he had met with Nehru both in Belgrade and in Cairo. In Belgrade, the two joined Communist President Tito in a declaration which in effect endorsed the major foreign policy demands of the Soviet Union.

The trend noticeable lately in the actions of Iraq, Jordan and Saudi Arabia—a trend which conceivably could lead to a separate alliance among the three for protection of their mutual interests and their thrones—has aroused the considerable anger of the current Syrian and Egyptian rulers.

Maryland Bar Association To Open Meeting

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., June 19 (AP)—Maryland judges and lawyers meet here tomorrow for opening sessions of the Maryland State Bar Assn.

Expected to enliven the sessions Friday is a proposal to change the method of selecting judges. The plan, proposed by a committee headed by Clarence W. Miles as chairman, would call for a constitutional amendment to set up a Judicial Nominating Commission.

It would consist of three lawyers selected by vote of the attorneys of their legal district, three laymen named by the governor, and the chief judge of the Court of Appeals as ex-officio member. The governor would name judges from a list of three eligibles offered by the commission.

Lawyers once elevated to a judgeship would face election in general election but would be excused from running in primaries. However, any lawyers who wanted to run against them would have to get up a petition including one per cent of the total registered voters in the area. That number in turn would have to include at least 10 per cent of the lawyers practicing in that judicial section.

The plan is advocated by its supporters as a means of keeping high caliber judges and to take the judgeship out of politics as far as possible.

On the other hand, its opponents contend it would only inject a new type of judicial politics into the selection of judges.

The commission's jurisdiction would apply to Baltimore City and to selection of judges for the Court of Appeals. It would be optional in other judicial districts of the state.

Tax Group To Review Assessment Methods

BALTIMORE, June 19 (AP)—The State Tax Commission today agreed to take another look at its method of determining how closely a county's tax assessments approach actual property values.

Wicomico County Board of Commissioners challenged the present method, which is based on quarterly reports from each county on recent property sales.

Wade H. Insley, board chairman, said county officials felt reports from a Legislative committee that Wicomico's assessments were only 33.5 percent of actual property values were in error. They feel, he said, that assessments actually are within 69 per cent of actual value.

The method used fails to consider static sections of the county where there are few property sales and where assessments often exceed true values, Insley said.

Albert W. Ward, executive secretary of the Tax Commission, said: "They don't think its right and I don't think its right, but you just can't put your finger on where its wrong."

He said the Tax Commission does not like to deal in percentages and has not published any. Actual figures are supplied to the State Health Department and are used as a basis for distributing health funds, Ward said.

As for possible inequities among counties, Ward said, "I don't know just what effect it would have if we have erred in our basises. You would have to discuss that with the health department."

One of Wicomico County's troubles he said, has been the figures supplied. The quarterly reports from a county on property sales require the sale price and the property assessment for tax purposes to be listed, said Ward.

While other counties reassess property which has been sold and include that figure, Wicomico has been including the assessment figure on the books. This figure might be as much as three years old, Ward said.

Carl L. Walters, chief assessor for Wicomico County, said he had been following exactly the State's instructions. But from now on, he said, he will include reassessment figures instead of the figure listed on the tax books at the time of sale.

He estimated that by the next quarterly reports, figures submitted by Wicomico County will figure out to about 55 per cent of actual value.

Ward said the tax commission would study its basis for evaluating a county's assessments and "if we find anything wrong we will change it."

All five county commissioners, Walters and State Sen. Mary L. Nock (D-Wicomico) took part in

GFWC Will Take Part In Workshop

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has accepted the invitation of the Civil Air Patrol to participate in the National Aviation Education Workshop, Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, Baltimore, Department of Education chairman, announces. It is to be held at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, July 8 through August 9.

"No spot on earth is more than 48 hours by air from any other," Mrs. Whitehurst points out. "Aviation has created many challenges that touch on sociological, political, economic, ethical, international, scientific and vocational areas," she said.

The goal of the workshop is to give inspiration, information, techniques and knowledge to lead a program of community action for the modern air age. Lecturers in aviation from government, industry airlines and the military will present the latest information on aviation developments.

Teachers will learn how to teach an aviation course, plan a club activity and teach their present courses, using significant aviation information to teach basic subjects.

Mrs. Whitehurst urges clubs to provide the $150 fee, which includes room, board and tuition. If scholarships are not available clubs are urged to try to secure funds from an interested person. Scholarship recipients will be flown to and from the workshop in Air Force aircraft if they are sponsored in cooperation with the Civil Air Patrol.

The workshop is open to all club women.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

The Shape You're In

Perhaps you're saying to yourself, "I don't eat more rich foods than I did when I was in college." But that's not the reason of your overweight. After the age of 25, a woman needs about 7 per cent less food, every ten years, to keep her body functioning.

Don't keep right on eating the same amount you have for years, when you don't need so much for your well-being. If you do you'll be at least 15 or 20 pounds overweight by the time you're 50. Not only is this unsightly to your figure, but perilous to your health as well. Physicians are very worried about obesity being such a hazard in modern living. They say that, after the age of 35, every pound you gain over your normal weight can endanger your health and perhaps your life span.

Cut Down, Not Out

The secret is not to cut out, but cut down. You don't have to ban all the foods you like in your new diet. There's no reason why you can't include a wide variety of foods in your daily menus. We have worked out a balanced diet essential to body health in "Your Beauty Diet." You'll find this could have saved the day by with menus of foods you can refusing to take the jack of really enjoy. At trick three, East and West each committed a clear-cut error. West could see that his king of clubs was going to be useless to him. He should have played it at the first lead of the suit. This would prevent South from ducking one round of the suit, which was essential for its development.

Some Days It Doesn't Pay Supreme Court Accused Of Usurping Legislative And Executive Powers

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Staff Writer

Some days it just doesn't pay to open the store—even with a pry-bar or a picklock.

Thieves broke into a service station in Craddock, Va., pried open two cash registers and cracked a safe.

Total take: $1.50 in pennies and a jar of chewing gum.

Burglars entered an ice cream plant in New Haven, Conn., and tore open two main office safes.

Total take: nothing.

A third member of the house-breaking set broke into Anthony Ventimiller's kitchen in Pittsburgh.

Total take: $15 in cash and 3,500 merchandise stamps.

John Ashburn of Ventura, Calif., thought he had trapped a thief when he opened his liquor store States.

and found that bottles on the shelves had been tampered with.

The culprit: a possum found snoozing on a shelf—and last seen weaving his way to his woodland home.

Joseph M. White Jr., of Baltimore wasn't exactly robbed when he went on an ancestor-hunting junkie to England.

But he did come away lighter by a few pounds that weren't included in his budget.

Checking up on ancestor Sir William Roberts in a church register, White found Sir William still owed for the christening and burial of a son 329 years ago.

White restored the family honor—two pounds or $5.60 worth.

There are more than one million stutters in the United States.

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Supreme Court of the United States is now being accused of usurping both legislative and executive powers.

Not so many years ago it was accused of ignoring progress and the will of the people by opposing legislative and executive expressions of that will.

In recent days the court has made several unpopular decisions directed at protection of civil rights.

A District Court has just made, in the Girard case, a popular decision in the same field.

The Supreme Court ruled that the highly popular FBI, which has made a fetish of protecting its departmental records, must produce the parts of them covering testimony of witnesses.

It overturned a congressional contempt conviction in a decision limiting the exploratory rights of investigating committees.

It denied part of the rights of a secretary of state to fire a man for subversion or suspicion of subversion.

It reversed several Communist convictions under the Smith Act on technicalities which do not kill the act itself, but which limits procedure under it enough so that its author and others are calling it a violation of the will of Congress and an assumption of its rights.

The District Court ruled that the U.S. Army could not turn soldier William S. Girard over to the Japanese for trial for killing a woman.

It said Japanese trial would not protect his constitutional rights as an American, and that he was entitled to military trial because his act was committed in line of duty.

Unpopular verdicts. A popular verdict.

Application of the term to court decisions has already caused one great battle between the executive branch of government and the court and those who support the theory that the "temper of the times" should have its effect in enactment of law, not in its interpretation.

For those who decried the hysteria of the "McCarthy era," the Supreme Court decisions represent a greater respect for individual rights and so are welcome.

There has been a great suspicion that Congress and the courts have been cutting corners in their efforts to get at Communist subversion. The danger of setting up precedents which could one day be turned against loyal Americans by usurping authority has received scant hearing. The court has gone through two phases, and if it errs now, it is on the side of human rights.

The question is whether the court, over the past quarter century, has not brought on its own troubles by paying attention to "popularity," if indeed that term does include trends of the times, instead of sticking to interpretation of the law.

9 Men Jailed In Morals Case

Nine of 16 young men, all of whom had pleaded guilty to statutory rape of two 13-year-old Mt. Savage area girls, were sentenced yesterday in Allegany County Court. Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris suspended imposition of sentence on the remaining seven because they had no criminal records of any consequence.

Eight of the nine were sentenced to a term in the Maryland Reformatory for Males not to exceed a year, and the other drew a similar sentence in the House of Correction because he was too old (28 years) to be placed in the Reformatory.

In his statement prior to sentencing the group, Judge Harris pointed out that the charge to which they had pleaded guilty was a felony which carried a death sentence or life imprisonment, to be imposed at the discretion of the court.

Practically every state in the country, the jurist pointed out, has statutes which make it a crime to have carnal knowledge of a female under a stated age—with or without her consent. Such laws, he continued, have as their object the protection of young girls.

Ignorance of the ages of the young girls constitutes no defense, Judge Harris said, since a moral wrong was committed. Force is not a necessary ingredient of the crime, and neither is non-consent of the girls involved.

Judge Affirms 4 Employment Board Rulings

Four decisions of the State Employment Security Board were affirmed Tuesday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris after hearings in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Three of the four appellants from the board decisions had been denied unemployment compensation.

One was Mrs. Margaret Thorpe of Frostburg, represented by Attorney Noel Speir Cook, who had been employed as a drill press operator for Davies and Hemphell in Elkridge. The board decided that she had left voluntarily to move with her husband to Frostburg.

Another case involved William H. Waltman of Ellerslie, who had been employed by the Ford Motor Company at Bedford, Ohio. He said he had to resign his job as a laborer in shipping work at Bedford, Ohio, because he could not find suitable housing for his family in Ohio and could not afford to maintain homes here and in Ohio. The ESB ruled that he quit without good cause and should have investigated the housing problems before deciding to go to Ohio to work. He was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Mrs. Janette V. Broadwater of Midland, represented by Attorney Simon F. Reilly, appealed another ESB decision. She had been employed as a yarn winder for Celanese and took maternity leave which expired last July 31. She said she did not have anyone to care for her infant child but did not ask the company for extension of her maternity leave. The ESB ruled that she quit for cause not attributable to her employer or in connection with her employment.

The fourth case concerned P. L. Phillips, individually and trading as the Tip Top Barber Shop, 104 Frederick Street. A certificate of assessment under the Maryland Unemployment Compensation Law ordered him to pay $416.03 into the unemployment compensation fund. He had contended that the other two barbers in his shop were independent contractors and not his employees. Judge Harris denied a motion to strike out the judgment in this case.

Robert Blank, Joseph J. Riley Jr., Wilbert G. Lavin, John W. Winner, William D. Croston, Richard E. Smith and Samuel L. Lepley. Judge Harris also ruled that they must abide by any other restrictions imposed by David M. Steele, state probation officer for Allegany County, and report to him at regular intervals.

Sentencing of any of the seven will take place if and when any of the group are brought before him within the period of probation, Judge Harris concluded, adding that they could be given either the life imprisonment or death sentence at that time.

City Workers Seek Raise In Pay

Local 812, Municipal Employees Union meeting Tuesday, unanimously voted to request a salary increase.

C. W. Shipes, president, said the Mayor and Council will be notified of the action and a meeting will be requested.

Shipes said that in addition, the city will be asked to continue the pay of any worker injured while on the job.

This is the second pay increase request received by council. The Police and Firemen's Welfare Association is sending representatives to council at 11 a. m. Monday to hear an answer to its wage increase question submitted several weeks ago.

Men Of LaSalle Meeting Set Today

The Men of LaSalle will meet today at 8 p. m. in the Cumberland Brewing Company for the organization's first meeting of the summer season.

Plans will be outlined for a summer frolic July 14 and a report on the booster program will be given.

Tax Revenue Poses Problem To City

Cumberland is going to receive $74,746.61, its largest share ever, from state income tax revenues but at the same time the money poses a problem in respect to next year's budget.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson said yesterday the payment for 1956 is somewhat of a windfall in view of the fact city revenue appears to be short due to withholding of state gasoline tax funds by the State Roads Commission.

But the problem it presents for next year is this: In estimating revenue for next year, can the city be sure of receiving the income tax revenue within the 1957-58 fiscal year. If not, it has to be applied to the next fiscal year.

Gibson explains it this way: When the state enacted legislation for withholding tax on income, it was discovered it could not make regular quarterly contributions to the counties and municipalities on the basis of $50,000 set up in the levy.

Kelley Takes Bridges Close Over Duties During Repairs

Estel C. Kelley, local attorney, yesterday got "squared away" on his duties as the new Republican member of the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners after receiving his commission from Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin. He was sworn in by Joseph E. Boden, clerk of court.

Kelley has submitted his resignation as a member of the House of Delegates, a post he had held since 1951. He succeeds Walter C. Capper, who had served as chairman of the board for ten years.

Appointed to a six-year term by Gov. McKeldin, Kelley had delayed qualifying while awaiting an opinion as to whether he should succeed as chairman, or whether the board itself should make the selection. Stanley O. Hamilton, also a Republican member, has since been voted as chairman.

Teacher Guilty Of Embezzling

LA PLATA, Md., June 19.—A school teacher whose extracurricular duties included the job of school cafeteria treasurer was convicted yesterday of embezzling $2,703.

The teacher, 30-year-old V. Gilbert Bailey, was allowed to continue under bond while awaiting sentence. Bailey was suspended from the Lackey High School faculty last summer.

collections received, because a large portion of the money collected would have to be refunded when complete tax liability for the year was determined. This meant after April 15 of each year.

To compute the amount due counties and municipalities in such a short period between the April 15 date and June 30 (end of the fiscal year) is a sizeable job, Gibson said, adding it may not be possible for the state to complete that job and order payments so that it will reach the city within a fiscal year. Even if the computation is completed in this fiscal year, the actual payment may not reach the city until the next fiscal year, he added.

"Hence in setting up the estimated revenue for next year, the problem is whether tax revenue will be received within 'that fiscal year,'" he said.

Gibson said it was anticipated that for this (1956-57) fiscal year, income tax estimates would be approximately $12,000 short of the municipalities on the basis of $50,000 set up in the levy.

The bridges across Georges Creek at Morrison and in Lonaconing on Watercliff Road will be closed to traffic for two weeks beginning Monday, according to G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the State Roads Commission.

The two spans will be refloored under a contract held by the State Foundation Company of Manchester, Md., at a cost of $20,000.

Traffic using the Watercliff road bridge in Lonaconing will detour over Hill Run and Watercliff county roads.

Vehicular traffic to and from the Mill Run section using the bridge at Morrison will detour via the old Georges Creek county road and the Flat Rock Bridge.

Chaires recalled that the Flat Rock span, which was not used for many years, was recently repaired and turned over to be included in the county roads system.

The Morrison bridge is 78 feet long and 15 feet wide and the Watercliff span, 70 feet long and 11 feet wide.

Arizona lives by four big C's—climate, cotton, cattle and copper. The Morenci open pit, north-east of Tucson, is one of the nation's largest copper operations. Diggings have literally converted a mountain into a hole in the ground.

With receipt of the $74,746, there will be an "overage" of approximately $62,000.

This amount will compensate for the $61,499.62 state gasoline tax revenue deficit caused by the State Roads Commission withholding these funds to be applied to the Cumberland Thruway project as part of the city's share of construction costs, Gibson said.

The city auditor also pointed out that racing revenue received from the state is approximately $6,500 short of the amount estimated for the year. The estimate in this case was $48,000 of which $41,456.29 has been collected.

State comptroller J. Millard Tawes said there would be another distribution from 1956 returns as soon as all returns have been fully processed.

Allegany County received $181,066.03 from income tax revenue which at the present time is considerably below the $276,590.61 received during the last fiscal year.

However, a tax office source said it is possible the second payment referred to by Tawes will swell the total and perhaps bring it about last year's mark since income from this source has been increasing slightly each year.

Distribution in Allegany and Garrett counties is as follows:

Allegany — Barton, $1,277.28; Cresaptown, $1,039.54; Cumberland, $74,746.61; Frostburg, $11, 643.79; Lonaconing, $3,467.95; Luke, $2,821.24; Midland, $749.22; Westernport, $6,076.13; county commissioners, $181,066.03; total, $282,887.79.

Garrett — Accident, $249.33; Deer Park, $128.12; Friendsville, $360.72; Grantsville, $875.75; Kitzmiller, $205.43; Loch Lynn Heights, $164.79; Mountain Lake Park, $513.95; Oakland, $5,770.75; county commissioners, $16,759.92; total, $25,028.76.

Statewide, the income tax revenue sharing set a record, Tawes said checks totaling $15,581,452 have been mailed to the 23 counties and 150 incorporated cities and towns. It exceeds last year by more than a million dollars.

It was estimated that with the second distribution, the estimated share for subdivisions will reach $17,054,000.

Cash bequests of $500 each were left to two grandchildren, Doris L. Kienhofer and Alfred J. Kienhofer. Harry W. Reynolds was left all the rest of the estate under terms of the will dated April 12, 1949.

Gibson Again Heads Garrett Vote Board

William L. Gibson of Oakland, who recently was reappointed to the Garrett County Board of Election Supervisors by Governor McKeldin, was re-elected president of the group during a meeting in Oakland.

A Grantsville resident, Charles L. Nathan, was named attorney to the board, and Mayor Russell L. Smith of Oakland was named clerk.

The other members of the board, both of whom are new members, are Roger Bond of Sang Run, Republican, and Harvey Gortner, Grantsville Democrat.

ant deputy West Virginia road commissioner, suggested that the state should assess the value of this bridge in its overall program.

He commented that Maryland is fortunate in having a long range plan, while West Virginia heretofore has been "shooting in the dark."

Mr. Bonnell observed that the improvement of the Wiley Ford Bridge is not a very new subject. He said he was amazed to learn Tuesday night, when the Maryland SRC met with various citizens groups, of the extent the bridge is used.

Visit Bridge Site

He said the citizens of West Virginia use the bridge to come to Cumberland for hospitalization, professional services such as physicians and dentists, and for their employment.

The group visited the bridge before adjourning.

Also attending from West Virginia roads department were Harold J. Snyder, Keyser, District 5 engineer; and J. J. Melody, Keyser, senior engineer in charge of construction for District 5.

The Maryland commission met Tuesday night with Allegany County legislators and a delegation from the South Cumberland Business Men's Association.

Mr. Pritchett told the group the rough estimate of the cost of the bridge would be $780,000 of which $100,000 would come from Cumberland for the approach.

Mayor Roy W. Eves in commenting on published reports of the meeting, said he "is glad to see the Wiley Ford Bridge project coming to a head." He added that Cumberland and West Virginia, which is concerned about providing its share of the money, are about in the same position.

Cumberland, he continued, "will have to 'dig up' approximately $100,000 to pay for the bridge approach from the Maryland side."

The present Cumberland-Wiley Ford span is only 15 feet wide. Half of the original bridge was taken out by the 1936 flood and the other half, a "temporary" span for 21 years, now carries 3,000 vehicles a day.

Williamsport Span

The joint session also discussed the proposed Williamsport bridge. Officials said it is to be built about three years from now under the new federal interstate highway program.

West Virginia and Maryland officials are seeking to coordinate the construction of approaches on both sides of the river at Williamsport.

Mr. Bonnell told of the relocation of U. S. 11 to by-pass Hagerstown and said that next year plans are to advertise a section of Route 11 from its interchange with U. S. 40 to a point just above Williams-

Science Teachers Visit Luke Mill

West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company is a co-sponsor of the seminar.

B&O Income Drops

BALTIMORE, June 19 (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad reported today that net income for May was $2,300,000 or about one million dollars below May 1957.

The railroad also said its net for the first five months of 1957 totaled $10,200,000, down $1,100,000 from the similar period last year. Operating revenues for May amounted to $41,200,000, a decrease of some $1,700,000 compared with the May 1956 figure.

port. After that the state will turn its attention to the section extending from a point a mile from Williamsport to the bridge.

Mr. O'Neale said that in the next two years West Virginia plans to work on U. S. 11 from Marlow to Martinsburg with the stretch from Marlow to the bridge being built in the third year.

Mr. Bonnell said one major aim of the Maryland commission is to get U. S. 40 from Hancock to the Pennsylvania line into the federal system.

West Virginia officials said they are hoping to get U. S. 21 in the Parkersburg area included in the federal program and also to get a road to connect the West Virginia Turnpike to U. S. 11 at the point just above Williams-

Science Teachers Observe Paper Mill Operation

Eight high school science teachers from the Tri-State area spent all day yesterday visiting the Luke Mill of West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company and getting a firsthand idea of the relationship of science and papermaking.

The eight teachers, from Allegany, Garrett and Mineral counties, plus two others from this area, who were unable to be present yesterday, will leave Sunday for the University of Maryland to attend a two-week summer conference on the improvement of science teaching. The seminar is sponsored by the Future Scientists of America Foundation of the National Science Teachers Association, the University of Maryland and West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

John A. Luke, manager of Luke mill, told the teachers that science is "an integral part" of papermaking.

"Not only are we vitally interested in science and science teaching," Mr. Luke told the instructors as he welcomed them to Luke mill, "but we are concerned at the apparent shortage of competent scientists and chemists in this country."

More than 60 per cent of Luke mill's almost 2,000 employees live in the Tri-Towns of Luke, Westernport and Piedmont. Mr. Luke said, adding that if the radius is extended by five miles to include Beryl and Keyser, W. Va., and Bloomington and Barton the percentage goes up to around 75 per cent.

He pointed out that about 70 per cent of the people employed in the past two and a half years have come from this immediate area, and mentioned that several hundred other employees live in Lonaconing, Frostburg, Cumberland and other communities in Allegany, Garrett and Mineral counties.

Some graduates of local schools now hold some of the top positions at Luke mill. Mr. Luke said. He told the teachers that their "product of the past bodes well for the future. We know that we can count on an ever better trained group of graduates each year. We want to help if we can, but primarily we're counting on you not only to do the teaching job but to let us know if, when and where we can be helpful."

During their trip to Luke, the teachers were shown a wood department exhibit, heard a brief talk on conservation, visited the pulp mill, the chlorine plant, the technical service department including the testing and coating laboratories and the constant humidity room, and visited the research laboratory and experimental coater, the paper mill, and the calendaring, cutting and finishing operations.

New Broom In An Old House

If France is now "the sick man of Europe," as a former premier has said she is, it is not for lack of distinguished statesmen. They have created such imaginative inventions as the European Coal and Steel Community, Euratom, and other practical approaches to Western European union. And Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, who now assumes the premiership, is another of the able, energetic public servants which France produces prolifically. He is young for the high office. He will be 43 in August. While still in his twenties, he was secret deputy for the nation-wide resistance movement handling internal preparations for the Allied Normandy invasion. He has courage, energy and intelligence.

But France, which develops public servants of the highest type, carefully envelopes them in the straitjacket of a political system just this side of chaos. There is little reason to hope that Bourges-Maunoury will be able to accomplish more than his equally able predecessors. He will try with all his ingenuity and energy to cope with two problems on which the very survival of France may depend. One, of course, is Algeria, where the situation has deteriorated to the point where it seems hopeless. The second most acute problem that confronts France is economic. Free enterprise, American style, hardly exists in France, which has a monopolistic scarcity economy clinging to low wages and high prices, and maintaining uneconomic small enterprises at the cost of mass production and distribution. France needs laws that would release her productive energies.

More On Girard

What makes the government of the United States different from the government of Soviet Russia? Surely it is not that like Eisenhower has a more attractive personality than Nikita Khrushchev, or that Sherman Adams is more attractive than Bulganin. These people disappear in the sands of time. Were that all, it would soon enough be discovered that differences in personality are the froth of history.

The essential difference between the two governments lies in the Constitution of the United States and the vast body of judicial decisions which implement and strengthen the Constitution. In the case of the soldier, Girard, the Constitution has been circumvented and the liberty and life of a citizen are in jeopardy because officials have dared to move beyond the strict limitations of the Constitution into the risky realm of improvisation. If a young soldier can be thrown to the dogs to satisfy political policy, anything can happen to satisfy policy.

For instance, the story now goes the rounds, the truth of which I obviously have no means of checking, that after Dr. Herbert Norman committed suicide, an agency of our government had a report that the reason for the suicide was that Norman had become aware that the Canadian government was planning to appoint a Royal Commission to study his activities and that such a study would involve between 60 and 70 Americans and Canadians who in one manner or another had been engaged in similar activities.

There can be no question but that relations between the United States and Canada took an unpleasant turn over the Norman suicide. If the report indicated above is true, and my sources are first rate, surely the people of both countries should have been told about it, so that their response to the challenge of this suicide did not lead to untoward circumstances. Who was entitled by law or by sound judgment to suppress whatever data in this report is absolutely correct? It would seem to me an unjustified extension of executive opinion.

In the Girard case, the Status of Forces Treaty—a NATO treaty—cannot be made to apply at all because Japan is not a member of NATO and when the Senate ratified the treaty it stated a reservation that its principles cannot be extended elsewhere. But it has been made to apply by various executive devices which should not have been pursued were the Constitution binding upon the bureaucrats in Washington who while denouncing dictatorships and Fascism, seem to take on the characteristics of both.

It might be called the Potomac Disease because it happens to the hired help of each Administration, whether Democratic or Republican. The Republicans devoted themselves from 1933 to 1952 to a denunciation of the Democrats for their misbehavior under the effects of this fever, but once they came into office, they acted like Democrats unashamedly. Now no one can tell the difference between the breeds of cats and only hope that ultimately everything will work out all right, as it generally does in history which is the record of the rise and fall of nations—some rise and some fall.

The Girard case is a straw in the wind, to use an ancient figure. It shows that the diplomats and the military will do whatever they feel they must do, which is much like the Marxist Law of Historic Necessity or of Historic Inevitability which made it easy for Mao Tse-tung of Red China to kill 800,000 people in order to establish his revolution. (This figure is taken from Mao and not from an enemy, although I do not know whether he said it as a boast. Compared to Stalin, this makes Mao a minor butcher.) When human beings are not governed by moral absolutes but pursue the rule of individual reason, there is no telling where they may end up.

And that, it would appear, is what has happened to the lowly soldier, William Girard, who is made into an international figure because his government will not judge him according to moral law but rather by a diplomatic rule of thumb as to whether it is wiser to placate the Japanese, the Formosans and the Hindus who get into everything, or pursue the course of justice. Apparently Girard's liberty and life count for nothing compared to covering up diplomatic errors.

The Partisan Applications Of 'Bipartisanship'

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Another example of the hypocrisy of modern politics and the tendency of some legislators nowadays to eschew the role of statesmanship for the easier role of the politician is emphasized by the refusal of the Democratic Party in the Senate to let any of its members participate in the United States mission on disarmament now meeting in London.

If the Eisenhower Administration happened in the past to make a decision a few days before it had a chance to inform the Senate, a hue and cry arose that the Executive was "abandoning bipartisanship." If the Secretary of State makes a comment, as he did last week, praising the Democratic leaders for advocating an exchange of radio or television programs with the Soviet and mentions that this has been the Department's policy all along, caustic statements are issued by prominent members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saying this is a supercilious way to treat a Democratic leader.

All this merely illustrates the pettiness of the controversies that are initiated in the name of "smart politics." To make a partisan football of the nation's foreign policies is nothing new. The Republicans did it with the League of Nations just after World War I ended and contributed to the very weakness of Europe which brought on World War II.

But history is repeating itself now with the Democrats in the saddle. Despite pious professions of interest in world peace and disarmament and great concern for the making of a foreign policy that will reduce the burdens of national defense, the Senate's Democrats have declined an invitation to become informed at first hand on what is going on between the Soviet government and the Western Allies on the subject of disarmament.

If ever there was justification for the old saying that "party politics should end at the water's edge," it is today with the world facing the terrifying problems of a nuclear age.

But the instances in which the opposition party should be cooperating with the party in control of the White House and State Department, and in which such cooperation is being scorned, are multiplying daily. Politics and the selfishness of the party struggle seems to be superseding American idealism.

The American people are rightly worried about disarmament talks. Will these talks get anywhere? Will America take chances and agree to disarm and trust the enemy's pledges? This isn't a problem for one political party but for all Americans. If ever there was a time when the vigilance of the Senate's leaders, Republicans and Democrats, was necessary it is in such a conference as is going on in London now.

When the nation's safety is at stake, the American people do not want their Senators to run away from their responsibilities as outlined in the Constitution. This document says it is the duty of the Senate to advise and consent before a treaty or agreement is finally ratified. But this certainly cannot be done as effectively if the Senate is dependent on what is printed in the press or

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Every too often there's a partisan check on the Administration loot. Everything is going out but the ins.

The ins have their fingers on the public pulse, their fist in the cash drawer and their thumbs to their duly elected noses.

All the outs can do is suggest, recommend and filibuster to their hearts' discontent. They are window-shopping through a glass darkly.

The size of the national debt doesn't scare us anymore than two yolks in an egg. The more people you owe the more people you have praying for you.

What happens when you trim expenses to the bone? They crack the bone to get the marrow.

Folks were squawking about taxes back in the days of the Greek and Roman empires. We haven't had a coffee break since the Tea Party.

We discovered that George Washington had a hassle with his local tax collector. They said the dollar George chucked across the Rappahannock was an evasion.

Nobody expects to make a profit running a government. We're satisfied if we get all the buttons back from the laundry that we sent to it.

Dixie-Republican Coalition Victim Of Squabble Over Civil Rights Bill

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The Dixie-Republican coalition which has operated so successfully for so many years is dead.

This was behind the furious statement of Mississippi's Congressman Bill Colmer who, turning to Republicans on the left of the House floor, blurted:

"I remind my friends on the left that there have been times in the history of Congress in recent years, during the Roosevelt and the Truman administrations as well as the Eisenhower administration when support from that section of the country known as the South has not only been welcomed but it has been sought."

What he meant was that the coalition which has traded Republican votes for southern Democratic votes to block bills favoring Negroes and bills favoring labor and public power was dead.

The promise of more Negro votes in 1960 plus the Negroes' growing swing to the Republicans, however, was too much. Even staunch Republicans who have been foundation stones of the coalition in the past, deserted. Furiously and desperately, Mississippi's Colmer had tried to line up deals with the Republicans to block the civil rights bill. So had courtly Congressman Howard Smith of Virginia. This time Republicans refused to horse-trade. They spurned every offer.

Deal On Hell's Canyon??

The horse-trading has now turned to the Senate, where Mississippi's cigar-puffing big Jim Eastland has proposed deals on Hells Canyon in order to get trial by jury inserted in the civil rights bill.

Eastland even invaded the civil rights camp and approached such strong civil rights Senators as Jim Murray of Montana, Warren Magnuson of Washington, and Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

Originally, Murray had come to Eastland seeking votes to approve a federal dam on the Snake River at Hells Canyon. Murray had lined up 43 votes, needed only five more to guarantee passage.

"I need help on Hells Canyon," he told Eastland.

"I need help on civil rights," Eastland shot back.

Obviously Murray was tempted. In Montana, civil rights is no problem, but Hells Canyon is a big issue. But no deal was made.

Later Eastland went to Magnuson of Washington with a specific deal. He offered to deliver the necessary five votes to approve the controversial Hells Canyon dam, if Magnuson would line up enough western Democrats to prevent the Senate from stopping the filibuster on the jury-trial amendment.

Magnuson has been sounding out his colleagues regarding the offer.

Meanwhile, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon Johnson is doing his best to work out a civil rights compromise. He has offered to push through the civil rights bill if the proponents will accept the jury-trial amendment.

Johnson is telling Senators privately: "Jim Eastland knows we have to have a civil rights bill. But he has got to have a jury trial. We've got to give him a jury-trial amendment."

Deals In House

Here is how the Dixie-Republican coalition went to pieces in the House of Representatives.

For a while it appeared to be thriving. Congressman Smith of Virginia had offered southern support to kill the school construction bill, which conservative Republicans oppose, if Republicans voted for trial by jury. He had also lined up Congressman William Miller of Lockport, N.Y., to kill the pro-public Niagara Falls power bill if Miller, in return, sponsored the trial-by-jury amendment.

In addition, the south offered Miller another big concession. Southern votes were promised to block the bill of Brooklyn's Congressman Celler requiring corporations to notify the Justice Department before they merge. Big business wants to kill this, and Miller was guaranteed southern support to do so if he would introduce the jury-trial amendment.

However, on June 10, ex-speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts told Miller not to introduce his jury-trial amendment. Joe insisted it would hurt the Republican party. Let a Democrat introduce the amendment, Joe said, not a Republican.

Martin had been working closely with the White House. Sherman Adams at the White House was determined not to have any Republicans lined up against civil rights.

Miller bowed, told Martin that if he considered the matter so important he would stand aside. He then notified Congressman Ed Willis, Louisiana Democrat, that he could not introduce the jury-trial amendment.

This left southern leaders in a jam. They knew that the jury-trial amendment was certain to be defeated if introduced by a southerner. So they approached Congressman De Witt Hyde, a Maryland Republican. Earlier he had championed the jury-trial idea, but this time he backed down. He knew the White House and GOP leaders in Congress did not want Republicans in any way identified with hamstringing the civil rights bill.

Southern Democrats came back to Miller, urged him to introduce the amendment. They had supported his friends on the Mohawk Power Company fight in the past. He could not walk out on the south now.

From the other side, Miller got pressure from his neighbor at Rochester, N. Y., Congressman Ken Keating, and from Les Arp of Illinois, the GOP whip. He was really on the spot. It was his original amendment. He had made an impassioned speech for it last year. He stood up for it consistently this year. He had his briefs and speeches all written. Finally he indicated that if no one else would introduce it he would.

At the last minute, however, Congressman Russell Keeney, new and conservative Republican from Lincoln's home state, volunteered. After a conference with Congressman John Dawdy, Texas Democrat, he offered the trial-by-jury amendment.

GOP leader Martin was taken completely by surprise. Bawling out Keeney later in the presence of other Congressmen he said:

"That was the most stupid, most ignorant thing I have ever seen. You have interfered with and hurt the Republican party. I shall never forget what you have done."

On The Side

Saw Ethel Merman, the Astoria Nightingale, in "Happy Hunting" the other night. She was never better. What Bill Shakespeare said about the "infinite variety" of Cleopatra goes double for Ethel. She has been in more musical hits than any feminine star who has ever shone on Broadway. And I don't except Lillian Russell or Anna Held.

Why does La Merman enjoy such success? Well, she's got rhythm plus. Her enunciation is superb. Her timing is perfect. Her sense of humor is exceptional. The top flight lyricists, tunesmiths and writers know when they hitch their wagon to the star-clept Merman, that wagon is bound to go places.

BONE DISEASES

A. T. K. writes: Is osteomyelitis another name for cancer of the bone?

REPLY

No. Osteomyelitis is inflammation of bone, usually due to infection.

LEAD POISONING

T. C. writes: How is a person affected by lead poisoning? I hear he loses his teeth and hair.

REPLY

The most common symptoms of lead poisoning are constipation, lack of appetite, weight loss, easy fatigue, and the appearance of the lead line on the gums. Unless exposure is stopped, the teeth may be lost ultimately.

SWEETS IN ARTHRITIS

J. D. writes: Is it true that people afflicted with arthritis should avoid eating sweets?

REPLY

No, unless the arthritic is obese and needs to reduce to take the strain off the weight-bearing joints.

SPINAL CYST

C. D. writes: Does a running cyst at the end of the spine indicate cancer?

REPLY

No, as pilonidal cysts never become malignant. Consult a surgeon if you want to get rid of the lesion once and for all.

LONGSHOT

As for longshots, consider the experience of Matthew Robson, a London laborer. He borrowed two shillings, six pence, the equivalent of about 35 cents, from his landlady and with it won 75,000 pounds, the equivalent of $210,000, in a football pool. And the money won is tax free. Gambling winnings are not taxed in Great Britain.

Greer Garson, titian-frosted Irish beauty. My favorite red-haired actress. Greer in common with all brickpots, especially those of Irish origin can be a little difficult to handle at times. Nevertheless, her husband, "Buddy" Fogelson, the taciturn Texan, has managed to successfully surmount this frequent obstacle to matrimonial bliss. Mr. Fogelson has stated that in so doing he found very helpful our Horses and Women Department pamphlet titled "How To Handle A Red-Haired Woman." He also found of some assistance the wife training advice in the report on the views of the stargazers titled "Living With A Libra."

BRIEFLY

Now it is said fingerprints can be forged. That is, the fingerprints of an innocent person can be spread around the scene of a crime by the guilty criminals. A frightening situation. . . . How long can the outstanding money earning power of a film star last? Clark Gable and Gary Cooper, both 56 years old, are earning more money than ever. With percentage of the gross agreements their take from one film can be as high as $800,000.

Fewer Women Than Men Have Heart Attacks

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The male sex does not have a corner on coronary thrombosis. Women have heart attacks, but not as frequently. In contrast to men, almost 90 per cent of women victims have diabetes or high blood pressure.

Why are women less subject to coronary thrombosis? Their mental outlook is different and the majority lead a less hectic life than their husbands. But this is only part of the story.

Boys come into the world with thicker coronary arteries and, as they grow older, have more cholesterol in their blood than do females. These fatty molecules play a role in hardening of the arteries, and studies have shown that victims of coronary thrombosis usually have higher levels than do those without heart trouble.

We know that female sex hormones are responsible for keeping women's blood cholesterol at a respectable level. As a result, coronary thrombosis seldom occurs in women until several years after the change of life. From that point on she is susceptible to the disease but a decade or more may pass before she catches up with her male companion.

Diabetes and hypertension upset the usual course of events. Diabetics, regardless of sex, have more than the normal amount of cholesterol in the blood. They also have more trouble with their circulation due to hardening of the arteries.

A group of physicians from the Maimonides hospital, Brooklyn, made a study of 231 women who had suffered one or more attacks of coronary thrombosis. The majority were between the ages of 60 and 69; 29 were under 50.

Of this group, 87.5 per cent had diabetes and 87 per cent hypertension; 68.4 per cent came from families where these diseases were rife.

Such surveys demonstrate that most women need not worry about coronary thrombosis during most of their lifetime, unless they have diabetes or high blood pressure. But, by keeping these disorders under control, they usually can avoid the complication of coronary attacks.

STOMACH ULCER

D. L. writes: Is a pyloric ulcer treated the same as a stomach ulcer?

REPLY

Medical treatment may be the same but diagnosis often presents a difficult problem. Ulcer of the stomach may lead to cancer whereas the more common pyloric or duodenal ulcer seldom, if ever, becomes malignant. As a result, more diagnostic tests are performed if stomach ulcer is suspected.

Keyser Council Opposes Phone Rate Increase

Mayor Welcomes His Successor

KEYSER — The mayor and city council have gone on record as opposing the action of the C & P Telephone Company in asking the W. Va. Public Service Commission to grant it permission to increase its telephone rates in the Keyser area to pay for the expenses of its recent advertising campaign and improvement in local area service. The council passed a resolution calling this matter to attention of the board of public works, charging it is unfair to ask the citizens of the area to pay for the business of the company.

The action was taken at the final meeting of the present mayor and council for their present fiscal year. Mayor John C. Two building permits have been issued and reported to the council at the meeting Tuesday afternoon, one for $10,000 to remodel a building and improve it for a church for the Faith Baptist Church on West Piedmont Street, and another for a $10,000 brick residence for Donald Heare on Virginia Street.

Homier F. Bill has been given a leave of absence to attend a short course at West Virginia University this summer in Water Works Class for operators of municipal and commercial water works. Mr. Bill is an employee at the municipal water works in the South End of the city.

WSCS Studies Mission Work In Philippines

Keyser Group Views Playlet

KEYSER — "Declare His Glory," was the title of an impressive report in the form of a playlet as broadcast from the Philippines on missionary development, which featured the program at the June meeting of the WSCS chapter of First Methodist Church this week. Mrs. W. E. Michael was emcee and introduced speakers.

Each speaker gave details of their work in the local WSCS. They included Mrs. Charles Paskel, as a bishop's wife; Mrs. John Thrush, as conference president; Mrs. J. Robert Wilson, a missionary; Mrs. Kermit Parish, as a director of a school; Mrs. George Rinar, as deaconess; Mrs. Clarence Nine, as a teacher of a school for women workers, and Mrs. Lois Rogers, as a young American girl who went to the islands for this type of work.

Bible study, personal visitations and spiritual guidance were discussed as main factors in each of the work activities. It was brought out that training schools, clinics, annual retreats and special evangelism programs are progressing rapidly, and there are co-workers, helping with kindergarten. Another feature brought out was that of writing letters and keeping contacts with home as part of the work.

Council Raises Fee On Building Permits, Dogs

Delegation Asks Traffic Change

FROSTBURG — City Attorney Edward J. Ryan has been instructed by the Mayor and Council to draw up an ordinance to increase the cost of building permits. Heretofore, permits netted $1 each regardless of the amount of construction. The new permits will be on a graduated scale with definite amounts to be set at the next council meeting July 1.

Also changed was the amount necessary to reclaim a dog impounded after being picked up on city streets. In the past a charge of 50 cents was made, officials pointed out, adding many persons took the canine home and permitted it to run loose immediately. The new charge will be $2.50 to reclaim the animal.

A delegation of residents from South Water Street in the area between College Avenue and Water Street requested council to extend the one-way thoroughfare on Water Street to include their section of the street. At the present time Water Street is one-way, going south from Main Street to College Avenue.

The group pointed out that there is a dangerous curve in that section of the road between College Avenue and Linden Street which would be eliminated if the street were one-way. Council informed the group that their petition would be given serious consideration and that Park Lane, which would carry the traffic from the new one-way area if adopted, will have to be improved first. They informed the delegation also that city workmen are readying tar and chipping equipment to improve the area adjoining the swimming pool. As soon as that is completed, Park Lane will be repaired.

Frostburg Council Orders 'Crackdown' On Licenses

Pinball Permits Are Due July 1

FROSTBURG — William R. Vogtman, city clerk, revealed that he had been instructed by the Mayor and City Council to "crack down" on owners of pinball machines and other entertainment devices, who delay in getting city licenses.

According to Vogtman, ordinance 414 provides for the licensing and regulation of pinball machines and similar devices for entertainment, skill and amusement. It also provides for a license levy of $25.00 for each machine in use in city limits. He stated that licenses are due July 1 and to date not a single one has been purchased. According to previous city records, he pointed out, some operators have been in arrears up to six months.

A strict enforcement of the ordinance has been planned with checks being made at usual places of business and if licenses are not secured by the due date, operators will be liable for a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $150 for each offense or be confined to the city or county jail in default of fine.

Application for licenses may be made at the city hall, said Vogtman.

New Yorkers Notch Sixth Win In Row

Sturdivant Victor; Champs Get 15 Hits, Defeat Duke Maas

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP) — The New York Yankees ripped into Detroit pitching for 15 hits today, including a two-run homer by Gil McDougald and a three-run homer by Yogi Berra, while Tom Sturdivant held the Tigers to eight hits for a 10-2 victory.

Bill Skowron and Mickey Mantle each had a double and two singles and two runs batted in as 10,561 watched Sturdivant win his sixth and Duke Maas lose his fourth. It ran the Yankee winning streak to six games.

There were no fisticuffs in this relatively tame contest. The last time Sturdivant faced the Tigers he wound up in a battle with Ray Boone and both were tossed out of the game and fined $100. Boone didn't play today.

The Yanks crashed through for two in the third on a walk to Sturdivant, Bobby Richardson's sacrifice and successive scoring singles by Mantle and Harry Simpson. Simpson, recent acquisition from Kansas City, was making his first starting appearance as a Yankee, playing right field while Hank Bauer shift to left.

McDougald's fifth homer of the season into the lower left field stands in the fifth followed an error by Frank Bolling on Richardson's grounder.

Lou Sleater, who took over from Maas at the start of the sixth, was roughed up in the seventh when the Yanks scored four. McDougald tripled and Mantle doubled. After Elston Howard flied deep to left, moving Mantle to third. Bill Skowron was walked intentionally. Berra followed with his eighth homer into the right field bull pen to chase Sleater.

DETROIT — In yesterday's match Garlitz and Mattingly were all even going into the 17th hole where Garlitz knocked in a 30-footer for a birdie while his opponent missed a 10-footer.

In sweeping to the title Garlitz defeated two former champions, George Petras and Clifton Van Roby, 1 up on the 18th, Ben LaNeve, 4 and 3, and Mattingly.

Mattingly posted an even par 36-35-71 for the 18 holes. Garlitz wound up with a 40-35-75. With handicap rules prevailing Mattingly gave Garlitz five strokes.

Frank Sullivan Scores Shutout Over Cleveland

Piersall, White Hit Homers In 6-0 Win

BOSTON, June 19 (AP) — Stung Frank Sullivan checked Cleveland on five hits today as he pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 6-0 victory over the injury-plagued Indians.

Solo home runs by Jim Piersall and Sammy White and lax Cleveland fielding contributed to this first Boston triumph in five starts.

The Indians, down to one catcher, watched their rookie center fielder Roger Maris removed in the eighth inning as the result of a freak accident.

With the count 2-1, Maris was hit above the left eye with the ball by catcher White who was throwing it back to the mound. No reports were available immediately as to Maris' condition though it was not believed serious.

Cleveland southpaw pitching ace Herb Score has been sidelined since he was hit by a line drive off the bat of New York's Gil McDougald.

Catcher Hal Naragon broke the index finger of his throwing hand last night and Jim Hegan is out with a muscle pull, depleting the Tribe receiving corps.

Boston beat starter Mike Garcia with a four-run uprising in the fourth inning.

Ball Never Took Right Hop For Doug Greenlee

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—In 16 years as baseball coach at Huntington High School the ball never took quite the right hop for Doug Greenlee.

Greenlee, who has quit coaching to devote full time as dean of boys, fielded some of the finest schoolboy teams in the country. But he never won the big one—the state championship.

In 1950, his best team went to the finals before losing.

Last year Huntington won 23 straight in regular season play only to lose in the tournament.

This year Greenlee's boys were among the title favorites again only to lose in the regional semifinals at Williamson 7-2. One horrible half inning, the bottom of the second, doomed Huntington to another tournament failure. One error, two wild pitches, one hit batsman, two bases on balls and three Williamson hits.

The most powerful gasoline any car can use!

ACCELERATING—When you call for fast getaway, every cylinder in your engine burns the maximum fuel charge. If your gasoline hasn't sufficient octane, it can't burn evenly in order to deliver full power. Super Shell has all the octane any car needs for full-power acceleration.

CRUISING—Here, Super Shell comes through with extra mileage. It contains toluene, a principal power ingredient of aviation fuel. Toluene gives extra combustion energy . . . that converts to more miles per gallon at cruising speeds.

PASSING—Another critical test of your gasoline comes when you're running hot at highway speeds and you want acceleration. Super Shell contains heat-stable aviation fuel components so your car delivers full knock-free power for safe passing.

Super Shell instantly and automatically supplies any engine with the full octane value required for knock-free power... under every driving condition

To realize the full potential of today's engines, Shell developed a new and higher grade of gasoline, Super Shell.

It contains heat-stable aviation fuel components that provide knock-free power under all engine temperatures. These power ingredients also give Super Shell extra energy, for better mileage. This lets any car deliver full-power acceleration from a standstill . . . more miles per gallon at cruising speeds . . . full acceleration for safe passing at highway speeds . . . thus meeting the three most critical tests of a gasoline.

Decathlon Scratched From Salvator Mile

OCEANPORT, N. J., June 19 — Smashing Helioscope's track record by two and one-fifth seconds, Montpelier's Nahodah today overwhelmed five opponents in winning the tenth running of the $16,775 Salvator Mile by eight lengths at Monmouth Park before 13,786 fans.

Ridden by Joe Culmone and carrying top weight of 118 pounds the 4-year-old homebred son of Nasrullah and Accra blistered the mile in 1:34.3-5 as compared to Helioscope's mark of 1:36.4-5 set in this race two years ago. The world record for the mile 1:33.1-5, was created by Swaps at Hollywood Park last June.

River Divide Farm's Decathlon and two others were withdrawn from the Salvator Mile field early this morning. Decathlon's trainer, Rollie Shepp, said that he was unable to reach Jockey Willie Hartack in Chicago and thus could not obtain his services for Decathlon in the race.

Nahodah, accounting for his second triumph of the year in four starts, was the favorite and paid $4.60, $3.00 and $2.20. He was third behind Decathlon in the Oceanport Handicap on opening day in his last start.

Circle M Farm's Skipper Bill, winner of this event last summer, was second to Nahodah and ran four lengths ahead of Mrs. Herbert Herff's Tudor Era which was three lengths in advance of Nan's Mink. Ambiguous was fifth and Rasper 2nd last.

Nahodah, a half-brother to Neji, steeplechase champion of America in 1955, awarded his Orange, Va., owner a net purse of $10,728.75.

Yankees Still Team To Beat, Tighe Opines

Says Tigers Better Than Chicago Sox

NEW YORK, June 19 (P — The New York Yankees may not be the invincible team they appeared to be at the start of the season but they're still the team to beat for the American League pennant.

That's the opinion of Jack Tighe, freshman manager of the Detroit Tigers. This despite the fact that Detroit has beaten the Yankees six of nine while losing six of seven to the White Sox.

Tighe doesn't claim his Tigers will beat out the Yankees but he is convinced his team will finish ahead of Chicago, currently leading the American League parade.

"I have no intention of belittling the White Sox," Tighe said as his team took the field today for another battle with New York. "I think they're a fine ball club but I don't believe they have the manpower to stay up on top all the way. I think Al Lopez has done a tremendous job but class will tell. The Yankees not only have the manpower but the class."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

WASHINGTON, June 19.—(INS.)—Exactly a century ago yesterday a remarkable man who was to help beautify the nation's capital and at the same time stimulate interest in history's greatest writer, was born in obscurity in Brooklyn.

For years he preferred to keep it that way. Henry Clay Folger was born with only the merest shadow of a chin. The deformed child, made fun of by children too young to be other than pitiless, rebelled against going to public school. His parents scraped and sent him to a private school where he was calculated to meet the least number of beraters.

Six of his schoolmates were the sons of Charles Pratt, the astral lamp oil magnate and philanthropist. They befriended the chinless boy. One of them, Charles M. Pratt, was largely responsible for persuading Folger to enter Amherst with him in 1874, and the elder Pratt paid his tuition.

The painfully shy and pathologically embarrassed Folger survived his college days, but would not attend the commencement exercises at which his diploma was to be given. He feared the ridicule, even silent, of the polite group which attended. He hurried back to Brooklyn and again went into hiding.

The Pratts rescued him again. Would he go to Columbia law if funds were provided? Once again the prospect of meeting many new people of his own age—whole people—presented an appalling prospect. But one day before the school term he informed the Pratts that yes, indeed, he would accept their kindness. A wonderful change had come over him. Henry Clay Folger was growing a beard. A lifetime of humiliation was nearing an end.

If the Pratt boys liked and admired Folger, Emily Folger, their sister, loved him. They married and lived happily ever after, a life married only by their childlessness. Lawyer Folger turned out to be an outstanding man in his field. He went into Standard Oil in his early days, rose through the years to chairman of the board of Socomey.

Though their income was enormous, the Folgers lived simply in Brooklyn through many years of their marriage. Few of their neighbors knew of their wealth, nor were they aware of Folger's absorbing hobby: The quiet man whose graying beard was his chin had become the greatest private collector of books, manuscripts, paintings, engravings and other properties relating to William Shakespeare that the world has yet known.

With his wife taking an active role, Folger combed the treasure troves of Britain's private collectors, bought from museums, pored over great stacks of booksellers' catalogues, and traveled thousands of miles in search of objects pertaining to The Bard. The Brooklyn house bulged to the wall-breaking point. The Folgers rented a warehouse.

One day in the 1920s Henry said to Emily, "I think I'll give my collection to the nation." It is not as simple as it sounds. Dr. John Franklin Jameson of the Library of Congress, Dwight W. Morrow (whose daughter was to marry a filer named Lindbergh), and Cal Coolidge—all Amherst men—pitched in.

Folger then presented the whole fabulous collection to Amherst and, to give it a proper stage, provided the money to build the magnificent white marble Folger Shakespeare Library here on Capitol Hill. It is a temple of rare beauty, designed by Paul P. Cret and Alexander M. Townbridge, and it houses a breathtaking array of the master's works and bric-a-brac of his day.

The bearded man didn't live to see the dedication by President Hoover on St. George's Day, April 23, 1932. He missed by two years. But his widow and the Pratts were there in the replica of Shakespeare's own Globe Theater, as this permanent abode of the great works became a part of the cultural landscape of the nation.

It was a big day around the Washington Post, I recall. James Waldo Fawcett put together a beautiful supplement to that day's edition, and among those the staff lined up to write pieces about the man from Stratford-on-Avon was my contribution—Bill Tilden—whose piece started, "that play is the thing."

Anyway, it started a century ago, and it will be here a century from now.

Quiet Stock Market Takes Worst Loss Since Feb. 11

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—The stock market, in a deceptively quiet way, took its worst losses on average today since the year's biggest break on Feb. 11.

There was no dramatic news to cause stocks to tumble and no strong selling pressure on the list as a whole.

Volume totaled a moderate 2,220,000 shares compared with 2,400,000 yesterday. The general range of losses among key stocks ran to around 3 points or more. But the averages were torpedoed by such losses as 5 1/2 on Eastman Kodak, 1 1/2 by American Telephone and 3 1/4 by Du Pont.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $2.00 to $183.49 with the industrials down $2.80, the rails down $1.10 and the utilities down 90 cents.

American Motors was the most active stock, up 1/2 at 8 1/2 on 75,500 shares. Second was Lukens Steel, off 2 1/4 at 114 on 41,400 shares. Third was Revlon, off 1 1/2 at 28 1/2.

Next came Graham Paige, off 1/4 at 1 1/2, and Rhodesian Selection Trust, off 1/4 at 2 1/2.

American Telephone was 14th most active on 15,800 shares as it declined on arbitrage operations. The company announced it was calling for redemption of about 24 million dollars worth of convertible debentures.

Among conspicuous losers were Amerasia down 3 1/2, International Business Machines 8 1/2, International Nickel 2, Phelps Dodge 2, Kennecott Copper 1 1/4, U. S. Steel 1 1/2, Illinois Central 1 1/2, Allied Chemical 1 1/4 and Air Reduction 1 1/4.

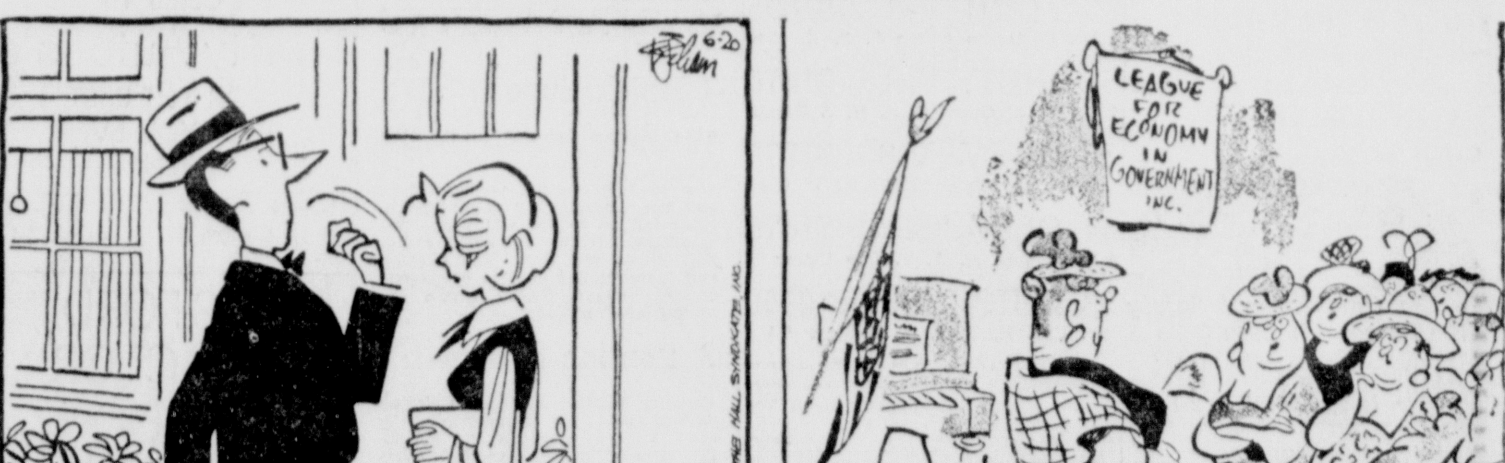

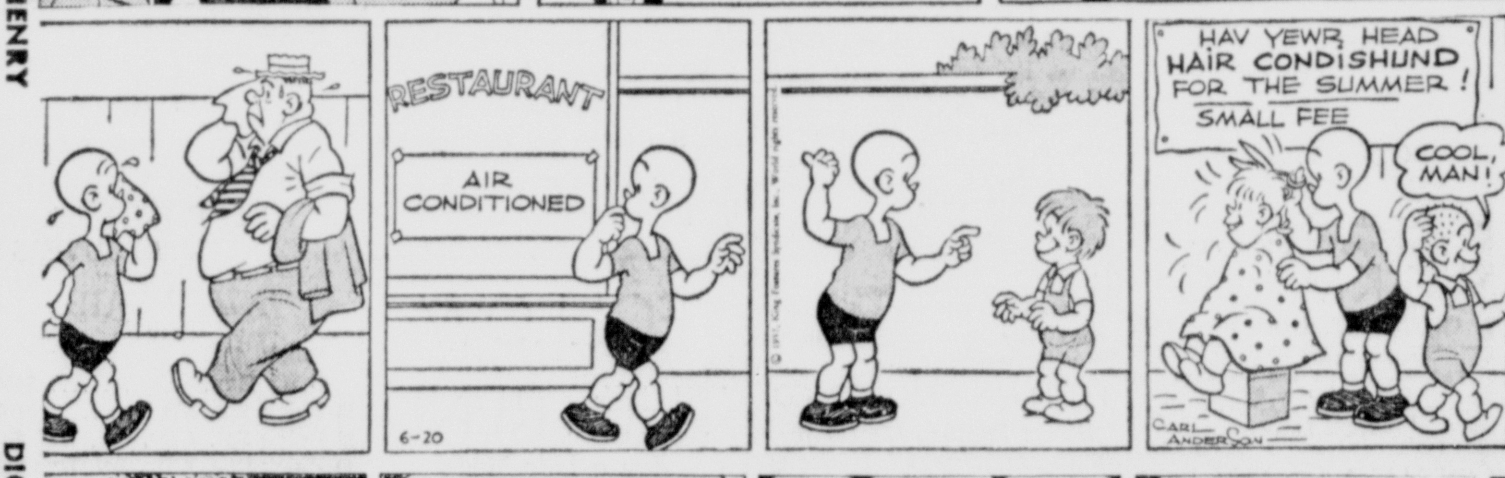

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Volume fell to 800,000 shares from 900,000 yesterday. Molybdenum, Strook, Hazeltine and British Petroleum were among the gainers. A.P. Woodley Petroleum, Mead Johnson and Crole Petroleum lost ground.

Fugitive Killed In Gun Battle

A 45-year-old Harman, W. Va., area man was shot to death yesterday in a gun battle with West Virginia State Trooper W. A. Steffick at a road block set up at Evenwood about 16 miles east of Elkins on U. S. Route 33.

Vote Canvass Fails To Break Tie In LaVale

Board's Attorney Will Give Ruling

The official canvass of votes yesterday afternoon by the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors in the zoning referendum Tuesday in LaVale showed that the only change was two more votes for zoning than were listed in unofficial results.

The official vote on the zoning question, according to the Board canvass is:

For 452
Against 208

The official vote on the zoning board remained the same:

C. Arthur Lancaster 329
John J. Rowan 329
Leslie J. Clark 326
W. William Yoder 267
Charles A. Smith 250
James E. Robertson 96

The tie between Mr. Lancaster and Mr. Rowan was discussed and taken under advisement. A member of the Board said this decision will come from John M. Robb, attorney to the Board, and is expected possibly sometime today.

Presumably the three highest men in the election will take office immediately as the LaVale Zoning Board. Senate Bill 483, which authorized the zoning regulations and referendum, went into effect on June 1.

The bill provided that the candidate with the most votes becomes chairman until the next general election, and serve until the 1962 general election. The man with the second highest number of votes will serve until the 1960 general election.

Former Residents Become Parents In New Guinea

The parents of a child who may be the first American baby born in New Guinea are former residents of Cumberland and Ridgeley.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fidelis V. Miltenberger, who are lay missionaries, at Goroka Hospital in New Guinea on June 15.

The mother is the former Miss Josephine Regina Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Coleman, 208 Fayette Street. The father is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Miltenberger, Miltenberger Road, Ridgeley.

Mr. Miltenberger is a pilot for St. Fidelis Mission at Mendi, S.H.L. Papua, New Guinea, and his wife teaches school at the mission.

The Miltenbergers, who are the first Catholic lay missionaries ever to go to New Guinea, were married here early last August and left for there in the fall.

Land Dispute Settled Here For $46,045

Polish Mountain Site Is Visited

A negotiated settlement of $46,045 was reached yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court after a jury visited a Polish Mountain property involved in a condemnation suit brought by the State Roads Commission for land needed in the U. S. 40 improvement project.

The suit was filed April 1 against Genevieve Yonkers Schaffer, Robert W. Schaffer, her husband, the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, and all unknown owners of the land sought.

After visiting the site yesterday the jury returned to the Court House and filed an injunction in accordance with the valuation of the land which was agreed upon by the counsel for the SRC and land owners.

An injunction is prepared when a settlement is reached between the two parties. Its terms were stipulated by counsel for the SRC, William C. Walsh and Fred Puderbaugh; and Genevieve Yonkers Schaffer and her co-counsel, Thomas N. Berry.

Mrs. Schaffer has the right to remove her ranch-style home, a cottage and a restaurant building at her own expense.

Checks totaling $38,245 had been deposited with the clerk of the court by the SRC for the benefit of the defendants.

Area Barbers To Be Briefed On New Law

An explanation of Maryland's new barber law will be presented at a meeting to be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall here.

All barbers in Allegany and Garrett counties are being invited to attend the meeting which is being arranged by Local 314, Barbers Union, of here.

Attending will be the State Board of Barber Examiners. David L. Miller, of Cumberland, is a member.

Invitations to attend have been sent to all shops by Frank J. Greco, president, and Fred B. Driscoll, secretary of Local 314.

The Major provision of the bill which became effective on June 1 is a requirement for the annual renewal of barber licenses.

August 31 is the deadline for renewal, and the union pointed out that those who do not renew by the deadline must take the examination required for new applicants.

Plans are being made to have a supply of application blanks at the meeting. The fee for renewal is $2.

Barbers of the area will also be briefed on the two-year apprenticeship program and other provisions of the new bill.

The union said the meeting is being set up to make sure that all barbers, union and non-union, have an opportunity to learn the provisions of the new law so they will be able to comply.

Polio Victim In 'Serious' Condition

A 23-year-old South End father remained in serious condition last night at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted late Tuesday night suffering with paralytic polio.

Donald F. Frye, 133 Arch Street, an employee of the Potomac Edison Company, is the first case of polio of the season reported in this area.

More Pleasant Weather Expected

Another one of those beautiful days like yesterday—without torrid temperatures and with breeze—is supposed to be in store today for residents of Cumberland and area.

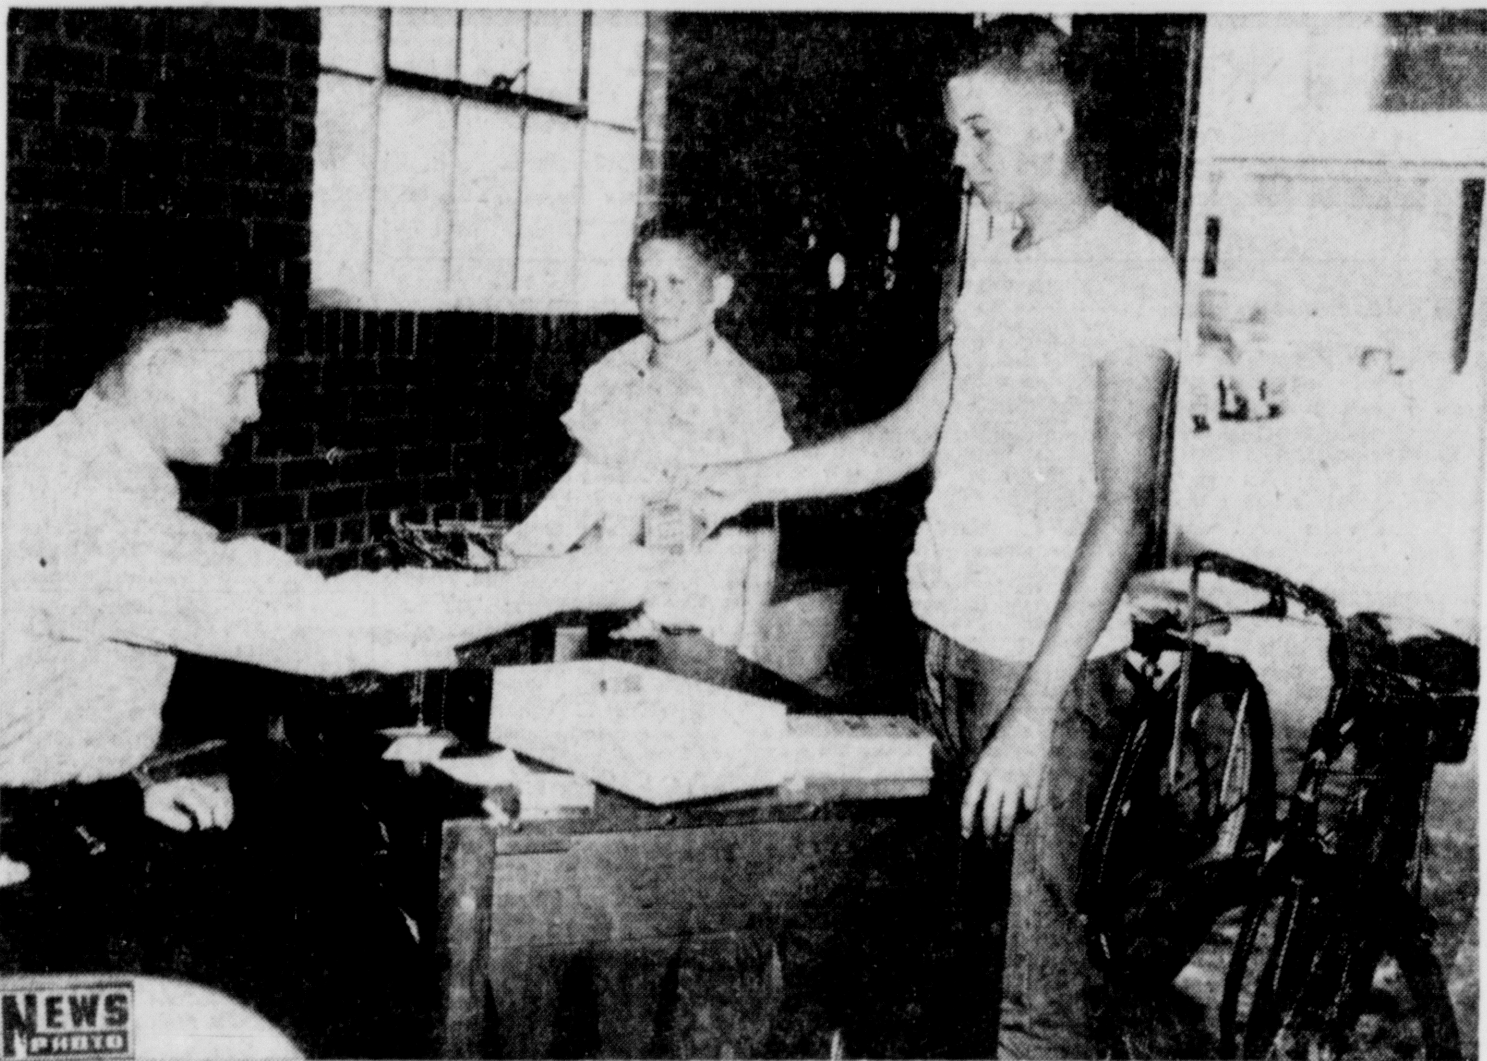

The temperatures "cooled off" yesterday as the mercury reached only 88, which was not quite as torrid as the past few days of sweltering heat.

By 10 p. m. yesterday the mercury dipped to a cool 74 and all indications pointed to good sleeping weather. Today's forecast is fair, cooler and less humid, which is welcome news. There is to be a high between 80 and 85 with the exception of 76 to 80 west of here.

Man Is Found Guilty Of Delinquency Charge

An Allegany County man was found guilty yesterday afternoon in Juvenile Court of charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl.

Calvin Coolidge Pritts, 32, was sentenced to two years in the House of Correction by Magistrate Fred H. Anderson with a recommendation that Pritts be examined for possible treatment at Patuxent Institution.

Music Club Recital Is Tonight

The Cumberland Music and Arts Club, sponsoring a recital by Miss Peggy Thompson, trumpet, and Miss Patricia Ann Smith, pianist, tonight at 8:15 in Centre Street Methodist Church Chapel, has announced the program to be presented.

Miss Thompson, who is studying music at Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and is well known in musical circles here, will play as her first number, Sonata No. 8 in D Minor, Arcangelo Corelli, transcribed for trumpet from the original as a violin sonata by Bernard Fitzgerald, professor of Music Education at the University of Texas.

The second number will be "Inflammatus" from the "Stabat Mater" by Rossini. This was transcribed from the original vocal form by Frederick S. Newcomb.

The featured work on the program will be an original by Charles Fussell, a colleague of Miss Thompson at Eastman. The piece, "Ronde for Trumpet and Piano," written for the occasion by Mr. Fussell, was highly acclaimed by a forum of composers gathered at Eastman. Its performance here will be the first general public playing.

"Carnival of Venice," arranged by Del Staigers will be the next selection. In the lighter vein, Miss Thompson will play "Pavane" from the "American Symphonette No. 2" by Morton Gould. "A Trumpeter's Lullaby" by Leroy Anderson will be her final selection.

For her portion of the recital, Miss Smith, in addition to accompanying Miss Thompson, will play Beethoven's "Sonata" Op. 26. She will then play "Three Part Invention" No. 13 by J. S. Bach, MacDowell's "Hungarian Op. 39, No. 12," and Gershwin's "The Man I Love."

Miss Smith has been Miss Thompson's local accompanist for several years and is well known here as organist at Centre Street Church and pianist with several bands.

Silver Committee To Resume Work

The committee named by the Legislative Council last year to review and recommend revisions of Maryland's motor vehicle laws will meet in Baltimore June 26, according to Del. Fred B. Driscoll, a member of the committee.

He said Del. Edgar P. Silver, Baltimore, chairman, said the committee will organize for its 1957 work at the meeting scheduled at 2 p. m. in Baltimore City Hall.

IBEW Gets Top Vote In Poll At PPG Plant

Electricians Favor Craft Representation

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers yesterday won by a slim majority an election held to determine the bargaining agent for electricians at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 here.

The IBEW received 12 of the 21 votes cast in the election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, according to unofficial results reported by Frank Adams, Lynchburg, Va., international representative for the union.

The United Glass and Ceramics Workers of North America received nine votes in the poll conducted yesterday at the North Branch plant by Sidney Smith, NLRB examiner.

No votes were cast for "no union," the third choice on the NLRB ballot.

Participating in the poll were 21 of the 23 electrical workers at the plant.

Results of the poll will be reviewed and certified after five working days have elapsed.

If the unofficial results are certified by the NLRB, it will mark the first time a craft union has won bargaining rights for its members in the flat or plate glass industry, IBEW officials said.

The Cumberland plant was organized by the Glass Workers union early this year.

The election was ordered by the NLRB after the Electrical Workers asked to represent members of that craft at the plant.

Truck Driver Fined On Overload Charge

John W. Schetronpf, Connellsville, Pa., was fined $73.20 yesterday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick for having an overload of 3,660 pounds on his truck.

Traffic Count Set For Wiley Ford Bridge

W. Va. Road Program Will Be Reviewed

West Virginia road officials yesterday told the Maryland State Roads Commission they will let Maryland know what they can do toward a new Wiley Ford Bridge when they have made a traffic count of the span and have reviewed their overall program.

Patrick C. Graney, the new West Virginia road commissioner told Robert O. Bonnell, chairman; Edgar Bennett and John J. McMullen, Maryland State Roads Commission members, that he also will ask Edgar B. Sims, West Virginia state auditor, for a ruling on the constitutionality of spending money across the state line.

The question of whether West Virginia should spend money beyond its borders for bridges across the Potomac River which is "owned by Maryland" was brought up here yesterday morning as road officials of the neighboring states met to discuss the replacement of the bridge.

Questions Power To Spend

M. L. O'Neale, chief engineer for the West Virginia roads department, questioned the constitutionality of spending money across the state line for bridges.

The border between the states is on the West Virginia bank of the river.

Albert L. Grubb, bridge engineer for the Maryland SRC, pointed out that since World War II West Virginia has entered into agreements that called for a 50-50 sharing of the costs of the McCool-Keyser, Kitzmiller and Ridgeley bridges.

Norman Pritchett, chief engineer of the Maryland SRC, pointed out that in the past Maryland has agreed to share costs of bridges for which West Virginia had a much greater demand.

Mr. Bonnell commented that West Virginia residents had a much greater need for a better bridge at Wiley Ford than Maryland.

Mr. McMullen pointed out that the area south of Wiley Ford in Mineral and Hampshire counties is one of the fastest growing sections in this part of West Virginia.

Rail Workers Use Bridge

Mr. Pritchett pointed out that at a check taken of Baltimore and Ohio Railroad workers in Cumberland, 500 of a total of 1,500 resided in nearby West Virginia and used the Wiley Ford Bridge.

Landowners File Suit

A damage suit in which a Braddock Road couple seek $2,500 has been filed in Allegany County Circuit Court against Lester McGill, Vocke road contractor.

Donald W. Durst and his wife Emily, through their counsel, Edward J. Ryan, are seeking damages as a result of a change in drainage affecting their property.

They purchased property in 1947 on Glen View Terrace in the Braddock Road section, landscaping the yards and land.

Later they constructed a drainage ditch on a higher level property to carry away surface water.

According to the declaration the defendant removed the drainage ditch, cut away shrubbery and by changing the grade and contour, failed to make proper arrangements for drainage in order that it would not be diverted upon the plaintiff's property.

Reserve Activity Will Practice Conservation

A conservation program for the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center grounds on McKaig's Hill is expected to be completed today by Rhea T. Kincaid, land management agronomist for the Soil Conservation Service and Martin Gordon, acting work unit conservationist of the SCS.

H. D. McMurry, special assistant for Soil Conservation and Erosion Control of the U. S. Navy at Norfolk, requested the program be studied by the two men who conferred with Lt. Cmdr. Gordon McCrea, commanding officer of the local Naval Armory.

Mr. Kincaid and Mr. Gordon have been inspecting the site and reviewing the program, and one of the things they are stressing is an annual maintenance program with emphasis on water runoff.

The conservationists are figuring out how to disperse water in order that it won't get concentrated in one area.
